to Spies—Labor's Peace Parley on Verge of Collapse.

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Senate Civil Liberties Committee said today that labor spies were employed by 2,500 firms—"A Bluebook of American Industry."

And the committee added in a report to the Senate on work for the year, many of the spies were found to be union members, "including a national vice-president of his union."

The committee, composed of Senators La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) and Thomas (D-Utah), charged the spying practice violated "the right of free speech and assembly" and that about $10,000,000 had been spent "by certain corporations for spies, munitions and strike-breakers in the past three years."

"The right to work means nothing if it is at the expense of more important rights," the committee asserted. It predicted that labor espionage "will destroy every vestige of right which for 150 years we have thought the constitution guarantees the average individual."

The report noted that the Pinkerton National Detective Agency and other organizations had announced abandonment of "industrial espionage," but said the committee "can scarcely receive these announcements of renunciation at face value."

Chairman La Follette said the committee was "preparing appropriate legislation" intended to safeguard "genuine collective bargaining" which the report said "will never be realized until the industrial spy is abolished."

General Motors' Expenditure

The committee reported that General Motors Corporation "paid $994,855 to detective agencies for spy services" from January, 1934, through July, 1936, and at the time had "a weird framework of spies among spies" to check upon each other.

"Most illuminating story," the committee said, "was told of a spy who was paid $10,000 a month by General Motors to spy on the Chevrolet plant of the General Motors Corporation."

The committee said later reports would reveal its findings on "industrial espionage, strike-breaking and coercion, and Harlan county."

Peace Parley in Trouble

Meanwhile organized labor's peace conference was on the verge of collapse today.

Before resuming their meetings after a long recess, leaders of both the American Federation of Labor and the C. I. O. let it be known that the big question was whether to meet again.

Neither side has any hope of reaching a settlement soon, for neither has yielded an inch since the negotiations started nearly two months ago.

The A. F. of L. wants the 75 C. I. O. unions that once belonged to the Federation to return. It says the other C. I. O. unions should be divided among already existing Federation organizations.

The C. I. O. has offered to go into the A. F. of L. on a semi-independent basis, retaining its present membership and organization and going ahead with its own organization program.

An editorial in the C. I. O. News, discussing the sidetracked wage-hour bill called the Federation a "strange bedfellow of sweatshop employers and tory politicians."

"The Black Connery (wage-hour) bill as it passed the Senate had the approval of President William Green of the A. F. of L.," the editorial said. "In fact, it was amended him."

In the special session we have seen Green wiring to every member of Congress demanding that they kill the very bill he once supported; while (John P.) Frey (President of the A. F. of L. Metal Trades Department) and his cronies lobbied side by side with sweatshop employers and tory industrialists to prevent the raising of wages and shortening of hours through Federal regulation."

Shanghai, Dec. 21 (AP)—Chinese press reports said today that Commander Chiang Kuo, son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, had organized 100,000 Mongolian troops. The reports said a mechanized vanguard of the Mongolians, with supporting troops, had arrived at Lan-chow. Preparatory to joining forces with General Chu Teh's former Communist army.

Some of the 5,000 Japanese soldiers who took part in the victory parade through Shanghai's International Settlement are shown marching down the Bund. A Chinese native threw a bomb into the parade, wounding three Japanese soldiers. The bomb thrower was pursued and killed.

Misses Brophy, Basch, DuMond Named by Board as Candidates

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Frustrated as a city of skyscrapers, New York today marked another step in its planned progress as the 20th century's greatest "underground metropolis."

With streets choked by giant buildings, man has been forced to seek passage below.

Eventually, as envisioned in the gigantic half-billion dollar scheme, Manhattan's millions will drive, walk and ride through an anti-like "nether world"—a maze of gleaming tile-walled galleries, far below the city's streets.

Today's new link was the No. 1 tube of the $35,000,000 Lincoln tunnel, under the Hudson river from mid-town Manhattan to Weehawken, N. J.—built at a cost of 15 lives over a period of three and one-half years.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia and many other notables were to attend the formal dedication ceremonies today. Tunnel traffic will start to flow at 4 a. m. tomorrow.

Other units in the subterranean labyrinth are to come.

For the city O. Henry described as "baghdad on the subway"—already interlaced with a vast network of rapid-transit train tunnels—is turning earthward on six similar projects at an estimated total cost of $429,635,000.

While the city's subway trains transport more than 500,000,000 passengers annually—the need for underground motor arteries has become more and more acute. Plans also are under consideration for "express" parkways into the city.

The new Lincoln tube, sunk 75 feet below the river surface, extends 8.215 from portal to portal. The shore-to-shore trip takes just four minutes.

Aerial Record

Paris, Dec. 21 (AP)—France and Britain have reached an aerial accord, highly placed political sources disclosed today, providing for closer cooperation of aerial forces of the two nations. The agreement was concluded during a visit to London last week by Air Minister Pierre Cot.

Loyalists Hurling 20,000 Troops in Teruel Offensive

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Spanish government today hurled 20,000 more men into the fierce struggle for strategic Teruel, radio advices said, and the reinforced army of 50,000 was ordered to take the provincial capital "at all costs."

This tremendous force and the insurgent defenders were locked in a sanguinary hand-to-hand contest within the city on the seventh day of the government's offensive. Thousands of attackers and defenders alike were reported to have fallen.

Through last night, while the civilian population of the battered Spanish provincial capital cowered in underground tunnels awaiting word of the city's fate, giant field searchlights illuminated scattered battle areas.

In the last 48 hours there had been two principal battlegrounds—west of the city where Generalissimo Francisco Franco's crack shock troops, rushed from Zaragoza and Soria, tried to smash through the government siege rings to relieve their embattled comrades, and the other in the city itself and its suburbs where the insurgent garrison fought with its back to the wall in the fierce hope that relief would come.

A column in insurgent Moors and legionnaires was said to have been destroyed when it tried to break through the siege lines into the city.

The rival armies fought in numbing cold. Snow blanketed the battle areas. 30,000 men were believed engaged in the campaign.

(All of Franco's lines in Spain were reported to have been weakened by the drain in manpower from attempts to save Teruel.)

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL BUYS STAR TRIBUNE

Providence, R. I., Dec. 21 (AP)—The Providence Journal Company today purchased the Providence Star-Tribune and announced publication of the paper would be continued.

A bid by the Journal Company, which publishes the Journal and the Evening Bulletin, was accepted in court today by Superior Court Judge Jeremiah E. O'Connell.

James C. Collins, attorney for The Journal Company, submitted a cash bid of $181,000 for the assets of the Providence Tribune Company, which published the paper once owned by Walter E. O'Hara, Narragansett race track head.

Westkill Man Dies of Injuries Received in Auto Crash Monday

D. C. Sharpe Dies of a Badly
Crushed Chest and Lung Fractures in Accident on Route 28 on Monday.

TWO OTHERS IN CAR

Injured Man's Wife and Mother
With Him in Car-Truck Collision.

A badly crushed chest and lung punctures brought death this morning to Delvan C. Sharpe, 30, after an automobile collision late Monday afternoon on Route 28 had placed him in the Kingston Hospital. Mr. Sharpe was a resident of Westkill, Greene county. It was the 36th fatal auto mishap in Ulster county this year.

Sharpe, his wife, Mrs. Marion Sharpe, 25, and his mother, Mrs. Nellie Sharpe, 63, were injured when the Pontiac coupe in which they were riding failed to make the sharp turn just east of the Glenford Church and collided with an approaching milk truck, driven by Clifton McMullen, 37, of Arkville.

From the story as learned by deputies and troopers who made the investigation, Sharpe and his family were on their way home following a shopping trip to Kingston when, on attempting to round the sharp curve near the church, the Pontiac was caught by the left corner of the heavy truck. The entire left side of the light car was torn off, from front to rear, the door being smashed and jammed against Sharpe and pinning him in the wrecked car. Sharpe's wife was thrown against the windshield and in addition to being badly bruised sustained a cut lip. The elder Mrs. Sharpe was thrown from the car, but fortunately escaped with bruises.

Treated Near Scene

The injured people were taken to the home of Eugene Roth, near the scene of the accident, where they were treated by Dr. Hans J. Conn of Shokan and Dr. George W. Baasow of Woodstock. Sharpe was taken to the Kingston Hospital in the Conner ambulance, Mrs. Sharpe accompanying him and later when it was found that his condition was so serious, his mother, who had planned to return home, joined him there.

The truck, which is owned by Rodrick Herdman of Lexington, Greene county, sustained little damage in the collision. The driver and Donald Stoutenburg of Fleischmanns, who was riding with him, reported at the sheriff's office and were questioned, but no charges were placed against them. The car driven by Sharpe belonged to a friend.

Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg and Trooper Roger Merritt answered the call to the sheriff's office, following the accident. Later they were joined by Sheriff Moyniaux and Deputies Brown and O'Brien and Trooper Reilly. With traffic quite heavy and necessity for patrolling the road until the wrecked car could be gotten out of the way and the injured people cared for, the officers were kept busy for some time.

Radio Station Suit

Cleveland, Dec. 21 (AP)—Radio Station WGAR was sued for $128,500 today as an aftermath of the Johnny Risko-John Henry Lewis boxing match here Friday night. Walter Taylor, promoter for the Ohio Sports Club, Inc., asked $25,000 because, he said, the station announced he refused to allow the fight to be broadcast after granting permission. Taylor claimed permission was not granted. The Sports Club asked $100,000 for slander allegedly contained in the station's radio broadcast, and $3,500 for loss of receipts.

GERMANY WILL HONOR GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORF

Munich, Germany, Dec. 21 (AP)—Army, navy and air force detachments will honor Gen. Erich Ludendorff tomorrow at service in Tutzing Cemetery—despite his publicly expressed desire that there be no ceremony at his burial.

The official funeral program said a motorized army detachment would take the coffin of the World War chief of staff to the general's residence at Tutzing after a state ceremony at Munich's field marshals' Hall.

At Tutzing the last ceremonies will be held in "the closest family circles." Ludendorff died yesterday at the age of 72.

Prolic Mothers Rewarded

Rome, Dec. 21 (AP)—Italy's most prolific mothers, led by a woman who bore 10 children, gathered in Rome today to receive from the Duce prizes for their numerous offspring. A Naples butcher's wife, the mother of 10 children, was declared chief winner under the rules which count only living, healthy children born since April 15, 1925 when the maternity and infancy organization was founded. Sixty-five mothers were awarded prizes. They had a total of 738 children born within the contest period, an average of nearly eight for each mother.

Great Britain Plans Naval Show to Impress Japan, Asks U. S., France to Join

President Hoover Aground

A sailor on the German freighter Preussen snapped this photo of the $8,000,000 U. S. S. President Hoover after she went aground on Hoishoto Island near Formosa recently. The 483 passengers spent two days on the island and then were taken to Manila, P. I. It was reported that heavy seas were pounding the ship.

Great Britain is considering a show of naval might to impress Japan, at war with China, and hoped today American and French warships would join in a Far Eastern parade which might check "Japan's aim to dominate China to the complete exclusion of foreign interests."

Attacks against American and British gunboats are the current cause of resentment, but the basic cause is that Britain fears Japan will try to ease out other nations with economic interests in the Orient.

Britain concentrated her naval force in the Mediterranean in 1935 and inspired sanctions against Italy by 52 nations. Both actions roused Premier Mussolini's resentment but did not deter him. He went ahead and now Ethiopia is part of the Italian Empire.

One deterrent to a British naval show in Oriental waters is continued unrest along the Mediterranean and British reluctance to withdraw any considerable number of warships now there.

This may be solved, however, by delegating to the French Mediterranean fleet the job of keeping watch—while Spain fights out her bitter civil battle that today centers around Teruel, 135 miles east of Madrid. Thousands were reported killed in Madrid government attack to capture the insurgent city.

French Could Aid

It could easily be arranged for the French fleet to take over for the British. The Franco-British navies and armies are linked in mutual assistance agreement. To this was added today an accord for cooperation between air forces of the two nations, said a highly placed French official informant.

And in fear that fascist countries may become uppermost in Europe's power juggling show, the French Government announced strengthening of alliances with central European nations.

French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos did the diplomatic work on his recent tour. A general European peace settlement is the ultimate objective. Present value of the alliances, however, is a card against Germany in any preliminary negotiations.

There was little definite action in China today, but Japanese troop and warship movements aroused fear of a coastal drive south and west of Shanghai toward Canton, capital of the Southern Chinese Government.

Fears Aroused

Shanghai, Dec. 21 (AP)—Japanese troop and warship movements today aroused Chinese fears that three of the nation's great coastal cities would suffer the fate of fallen Nanking.

The Chinese expected Japanese to drive against Hangchow, Chekiang Province seaport some 110 miles south and west of Shanghai. Canton, China's southern metropolis, and Tsingtao, Shantung Province seaport to the north.

There were authoritative reports that 11,000 Japanese soldiers withdrawn from the Nanking area embarked last night from Shanghai, apparently bound for Canton.

A party of 300 American and British women and children attempting to flee war threats in central China were turned back toward Hankow, one of China's three temporary capitals.

A military boom across the Yangtze river at Matung, 100 miles above Nanking, obstructed passage of their refugee vessel. The British river steamer Woolworth was among them.

The United States destroyer Pope arrived at Tsin-tao, where the cruiser Marblehead was due today to aid in protecting 300 Americans in the threatened port and evacuate them if necessary.

The south China situation was considered the most threatening. A Japanese attempt to cut the railway between Canton and Kowloon, which lies opposite the British Crown Colony of Hongkong, was expected momentarily. The prospect of dangerous incidents led to growing uneasiness in Hongkong.

Japanese Close In On City

Gunfire was audible in Hangchow. Three Japanese columns were closing in on the city.

In Shanghai, Major General Kumakiichi Harada, Japanese military commander, was reported to be

Cherbourg, France, Dec. 21 (AP)—Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow, heiress to the Woolworth millions, said today she renounced her United States citizenship because "it was quite the most natural thing to do."

"It seems surprising that my adoption of my husband's nationality caused comment in the United States," said the former "Babs" Hutton as she disembarked here from the Europa.

"It is quite natural that a woman should take the nationality of her husband. It makes it easier to regulate life and iron out traveling troubles. It is important in business, too."

Last week, in a surprise visit to New York, the countess renounced her American citizenship to become a subject of Denmark.

FEBRUARY, 1937: The Constitutional Battle Begins

By VOLTA TORREY
News Review Editor of The Albany Feature Service

(Second in a Series of Twelve)

Once upon a time, in February, 1937, President Roosevelt proposed to douse the Supreme Court in a fountain of youth.

Overnight, surrealism, child brides, the stork derby, Dr. Sarza's duelling, and a string of appalling airplane accidents were forgotten. Parents borrowed children's schoolbooks to brush up on U. S. history for a "constitutional crisis." And "Nine Old Men" became a best seller.

Congressmen got so much mail they couldn't bother with Secretary Wallace's new ever-normal-granary notion, or Senator Wagner's slum-clearance clamor, or the White House reorganization hopes. Democrats sang, "Good Night, My Love," and Republicans rejoiced in private.

"I'd rather be right than agree with the President," trumpeted Nebraska's Senator Burke, elected as a New Dealer.

And Montana's veteran, progressive, Democratic Senator Wheeler let it be known he could see nothing sound, progressive or democratic about letting the President name a new judge every time one who had served a decade passed his 70th birthday.

Sitters Ordered Up
But Arizona's Ex-Cowboy Ashurst, senate judiciary committee chairman, vaulted to the Roosevelt side of the fence, and Arkansas' 64-year-old Joe Robinson rallied the New Deal's quivering forces for the new attack.

Only John L. Lewis has something as news-worthy. A judge gave his Flint, Mich., sitters 24 hours to get up and get out or be fined $15,000,000. On they sat, beards getting bushier, while Governor Murphy paced the floor between CIO and General Motors coucabs.

Even before an agreement to negotiate had cleared the auto plants, Lewis was dicker with the coal industry and conferring behind the scenes with "big steel's" bosses on a trade that CIO hailed as "the greatest story in the history of the American labor movement."

And Lewis promised to have Chrysler and Ford bargaining, too, by Christmas.

Labor Murder
Sitting became stylish. A Detroit boss joined his employees in the sport. New York boys squatted on a night-club floor, protesting parental early-to-bed rules.

Even the month's murder mystery was shrouded by labor strife: Norman Redwood, sandhogs' union manager, was slain after trouble with Sam Rosoff, Gotham's millionaire ditch digger, and another union.

"War's Horror Reaches Peak in Mad Flight From Malaga," a headline read. Fascists tried, "Malaga today, Madrid tomorrow!" Victory seemed so certain that Germany and Italy, after seven months' haggling, agreed to help quarantine Spain.

Besides, Mussolini just then had to turn around and shake his fist once more at Ethiopia; natives were tossing pineapples.

And Britannia, perking up as the coronation approached, prepared to regain rule of the waves

by starting a $7,500,000,000 rearmament program. The London metal exchange had its "maddest day since 1914."

A Premier Prays

A black storm swept America's dust bowl, but—"My stocks are all going up again," an old lady told a Wall Street broker. "Is that a bad sign?"

In Japan, soaring prices heightened friction between politicians and militarists. A new premier, General Senjuro Hayashi, sought guidance by praying to dead warriors' spirits.

In China, harassed by drought and desperados, Nanking officials announced their 10-year war with Chinese communists was over.

les, as long as they are all responding to a decreased ability to pay on the part of consumers?

"I object to the attitude toward labor. I claim that all should be treated alike and no favoritism shown." I am afraid the writer is unable to recognize non-partisanship when he sees it. Perhaps the reason why the Administration seems pro-labor is because it came directly after a whole series of anti-labor administrations. Industry has been favored for a long time, with injunctions crippling union activity, anti-picketing ordinances and courts generally disposed to look upon labor unions as a conspiracy against the "American way of life" and the "great middle class."

Following this is a discussion of relief. Disclaiming any intention of letting people starve, the author suggests that relief be turned over to (or rather should have been left with) "towns, counties, cities and states." Now, apart from the question as to whether these agencies have enough money or not, why would this be more efficient than a national program? Everybody knows that state legislatures are, if possible, more susceptible to pressure-group influence than Congress, and that county government is unbelievably corrupt. And then go out and ask the United States Conference of Mayors if they want the relief cost turned over to them.

Of course, the whole argument isn't as serious as this. The article is doled up with little things like "Think through to fundamental principles" (a favorite of Herbert Hoover. "Make it easy to do right and hard to do wrong," platitudes which as Thurman W. Arnold says in his new book, are going to be read by American school children in years to come as part of an education in "The Folklore of Capitalism.")

Nine Reasons
Why Newspapers Ask Advertisers
for "Early Copy"

THE ADVERTISER IS UNFAIR TO HIMSELF WHEN HE HABITUALLY SENDS HIS DISPLAY ADVERTISING COPY TO THE NEWSPAPER OFFICE ON THE DAY THE AD IS TO BE PRINTED

WHAT EARLY COPY MEANS

- 1—Good Position
- 2—No Errors
- 3—Time for Correction
- 4—Good Typography
- 5—Prompt Delivery to Reader
- 6—Fair to Mechanical Staff
- 7—Advertisement Well Written
- 8—Advertisement Inserted
- 9—Overhead Normal

WHAT LATE COPY MEANS

- 1—Risk of Poor Position
- 2—Risk of Typographical Errors
- 3—No Opportunity for Corrections
- 4—Risk of Poor Typography
- 5—Risk of Late Delivery
- 6—Unfair Physical Strain
- 7—Advertisement Hurriedly Written
- 8—Risk of Omission
- 9—Often Cause of Rate Increase

While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers, pressmen and mailers in a short crowded period of stress.

There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service every day in the week when early copy is sent in. But to set every advertisement in the last minute of rush is impossible, even with a force five times as large.

The Freeman believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers, pressmen and mailers who serve them so well as to be fair to themselves.

All Display Advertising Copy should be in the Freeman Office at least 24 hours before publication. Larger ads and those to be inserted on rush days should be received at least 48 hours in advance.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "The Firefly." One of the most discussed musical films of the year comes to the midtown theatre in all the spectacle and glamour of a picture that cost millions to produce. A cast of thousands plus the musical artistry of star Jeanette MacDonald all combine to contribute an operatic drama of merit and beauty. Miss MacDonald sings her score beautifully and she is ably assisted by Alan Jones in this romantic musical interlude. Filmed in the new sepi tint, the presentation is a pleasure to watch and the entire production, although somewhat lengthy, is a treat to all lovers of music. For many months a road attraction, "The Firefly" is offered at the Broadway at popular prices.

Kings: "On Such a Night" and "The Crowd." A great actress disappears just before the curtain is supposed to rise and no one can say where she has gone. It develops that murder has been done, that there has been a secret marriage, and that the actress sacrifices career and fame for the love and help she can give her husband in his time of trouble. Karen Morley, Roscoe Karns, Alan Mowbray and Grant Richards are featured. "Idol of the Crowd" is a stirring story of hockey and hockey players and of a star who is asked to throw a game and whose refusal almost brings him death. John Wayne is starred in this one.

Orpheum: "Banjo On My Knee." A love lyric of the deep south that has to do with a boy who marries a girl and then leaves her is offered at the Orpheum in this story of simple people who ask little from life and receive little. This is an appealing picture for it has a honey humor, rapid action and a love story that seems to ring true from beginning to end. Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea are the players.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Danger, Love at Work." A man and a maid in love serves as the basis for this hilarious farce that takes them from one situation into another with all of the situations humorous or gaily exciting. Here is a play that was created for sheer comedy effect and it manages to stay that way from start to finish. Jack Haley and Ann Southern handling the leads with apparent enjoyment, the work of the featured players is also valuable and engaging. In fact Mary Boland, Edward Everett Horton and Walter Catlett put on a show of their own and almost steal the honors away from the stars of the production. Here is a romantic comedy attraction that is both humorous and well acted.

Amateur Dentist.

Omaha, Neb.—H. H. Elliott of Omaha says he is through playing dentist.

Last summer he discovered he had five cavities and, unwilling to go to a dentist, Elliott said he filled them himself with a liquid solder.

Now he says the fillings have dropped out, an ache in his jaw is gone, his tongue is no longer partially paralyzed and his appetite is returning.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 21, 1937

CREDIT WHERE IT IS DUE.

A twisted editorial interpretation of the "jokers" in the recent proposals of New York city for a reclassification of all laws of the metropolis, has recently been rendered, leading one to believe that the Republican administration there (Mayor LaGuardia is a Republican, though independent and in sympathy with a great many of the New Deal policies)
 is to blame for changes in the code, some of which would possibly be of considerable concern to Ulster county. The answer, of course to any such statement is to look at the facts.

Mayor LaGuardia proposed the reclassification and announced that there would be no changes in the existing statutes, other than to modernize the law. This was a public announcement and so certain was the New York mayor of his ground that he pleaded for the special session of the legislature to both Governor Lehman and legislative leaders on these grounds, and received immediate support for a "one day session."

The matter of rewriting the new code was placed in the hands
 of an assistant, counsel, Ruben Lazarus, who is a boldfaced Democrat, and who has told Assemblyman Conway that he assumes all responsibility for the proposed code, which must mean he is the man to blame for any changes affecting Ulster county.

A few days before the special session Assemblyman Conway received his copy of the proposed code, something over 3,000 pages,
 and a rapid perusal of the section
 affecting Ulster convinced him that certain changes had been made, which if adopted, might mean victory for New York city
 in certain tax litigation over reservoir properties. This and other matters prompted the assemblyman to announce opposition to the code as it was written,
 and quickly marshalling forces,
 the opposition stood fast in its demands for a change. New York assemblymen also studying the new code saw certain changes and the opposition grew. The result so far is a promise that Ulster will have its relations under the new code revised so they will stand as they do under now existing laws.

Only one conclusion can be drawn. A Republican assemblyman on the job for his constituents, saw in the handwork of a Democratic lawyer, an attempt to take advantage of Ulster county and win certain concessions which the courts had not previously granted. It is a tribute to the assemblyman that he was on the job, that his influence was wide enough to thwart this plan and save Ulster county taxpayers millions of dollars, which had the scheme been successful, would certainly have to be paid out.

FOR A SAFE CHRISTMAS.

A timely reminder for increased safety with electrical decorations
 and toys during the Christmas season is noted by the Underwriters. Each year tragedies from fire and shock to mar the Yuletide season have been reported,
 from all sections of the country.
 A dead child, a seriously burned parent, a destroyed home—these are the fruits of carelessness and ignorance in regard to fire hazards.

The damage of fire always exists and with the holiday season
 a number of especially grave hazards appear. One of the worst of these is the use of real candles on Christmas trees. As the tree dries it will very easily catch fire
 from even the slightest flame.
 And even though a tree is green enough to resist candle flame, the danger of clothing and decorations
 igniting is extremely great.
 Christmas costumes of flimsy
 cloth and paper are another important danger especially to children too young to be properly careful. Such costumes should never be worn in the presence of open flames of any kind.

During Christmas more than ordinary care should be taken with matches and smoking materials. With a litter of package wrapping about and the house in general happy disorder, carelessness with a match or cigarette
 may be the prelude to a conflagration. All lighting sets and decorations should be carefully examined for insulation weakness before putting them into use.
 See if the insulation is intact and in good order and see that none of the sockets is broken so as to expose "live" metal.

Above all then keep fire dangers in mind this Christmas and be safe by keeping fire where it should be, in the furnace and under the turkey.

REMEDY FOR MIGRAINE

As there have been so many
 "cures" for migraine—one-sided headache, many of which have not proved satisfactory in the course of time, most research physicians today like to try their discoveries
 in a number of cases and over a period of time before giving their findings to their medical organizations or Journals.

Some months ago I recorded the results reported by Dr. Mary O'Sullivan, New York, in stopping 1000 cases of one-sided headache
 at Bellevue Hospital by the use of ergotamine tartrate over a period of two years. All but eight of 97 patients were benefited. It completely checked 1042 headaches in 83 persons. It was found that the ergotamine tartrate was not a cure for migraine nor would it prevent attacks but it never failed to stop the attacks in 93 per cent of the cases.

The ergotamine tartrate is given by injection into the muscles. Even when taken by mouth the size of the dose should be as ordered by the physician. This preparation is given different names by the different drug manufacturers.

What may prove another source of help in migraine when ergotamine tartrate is not successful is reported by Dr. H. S. Rubinstein in Archives of Neurology and Psychiatry. As this drug had helped many cases of trichloro-ethylene treatment upon six patients suffering with migraine attacks. Judging from the results of the cases it would seem that this drug may be a valuable help in the treatment of migraine.
 While this drug has been effective in treatment, nevertheless the search for the cause of the migraine should continue. Fifteen drops, obtained by crushing an ampule in a handkerchief and having patient breathe it in, is the usual method of treatment. The patient should be lying down as
 in some cases there is a momentary loss of consciousness—never over a minute. Relief is usually obtained within an hour and often relief is obtained immediately. In addition to the relief obtained at the time of the attack, there is also a distinct tendency to prolong the interval between attacks.

Dr. Rubinstein states that six cases is not a long testing period,
 but nevertheless trichloroethylene
 appears to be a valuable remedy
 in migraine.

DARE TO DREAM

BY ALICE MARIE DODGE

The Characters
 Nelda, a beautiful, courageous girl, is forced to run a lettuce
 farm to make her personal dreams
 come true.
 Bill, a tanned, young lettuce
 farmer, is a mystery to Nelda.
 Jack, blond, gay and wealthy,
 tells Nelda he has his tag on her.
 Mrs. Reckless, Reck's cold and arrogant mother, dislikes Nelda.
 Jack, Nelda's younger brother,
 is in medical school.

Chapter 13
Happy New Year!

AS NELDA scrambled the eggs
 she thought briefly of Reck's party at Rio Del Mar that she missed. How unpredictable life
 was. Here she was in a green wool dress with one of Doris Powell's aprons tied around her instead of sitting at a table in the white taffeta gown with a solicitous waiter hovering near to anticipate her every want.

"You know your kitchen mechanics," Bill said.

"Not so bad yourself," she re-tortured.

"Case of necessity with me." "I've just learned to cook in the past few weeks—I mean everyday meals. The only thing I know before that was chafing-dish stunts."

"Guess you've found that life means more than chafing-dish stunts."

"And how!"

BOTH letters were for Nelda.
 One had Claire Best's name on the envelope; the other was scrawled in Jack's bold hand.

"Happy New Year!" cried Bill, and kissed her.

It must have been the atmosphere of the Powell home that was the cause of what happened at midnight. When the hands of the clock on the kitchen stove reached twelve Bill and Nelda were at the table putting sandwiches together.

"Happy New Year!" she cried.
 "Happy New Year!" A sudden, reckless look crossed his face. He kissed her full upon the lips.

After it was over he seemed as surprised as she was, but not repentant. "You asked for it," he said.

"Why—I did not!" A hot vividness like flame was touching her nerves. Her heart was hurrying.
 "If your hair didn't curl in that adorable way perhaps I could have resisted you."

"Oh, a flatterer?" Soft notes
 of laughter sprinkled the words.
 Her creamy skin was smooth and fragrant, her lips red and sweet, so it was no wonder he kissed her again.

She drew away from him rather sharply this time.

"Am I on somebody else's preserves?" he asked.

"Well," she began after an uncomfortable pause.

"I was afraid of that. Anyway,
 tonight's been perfect up to now.
 He picked up the plate of sandwiches. "Let's join our notes."

She might have known it would end like this. It always did. She could see that he was pale and
 the smile on his mouth sardonic.
 Well, she couldn't help it if he was like that.

Doris and Ray tumbled into the kitchen at that moment.

"Happy New Year! Happy New Year!" they cried.

A new year! What did it hold for her, Nelda wondered, and passed through the swing door
 Bill held open for her.

Green Gold

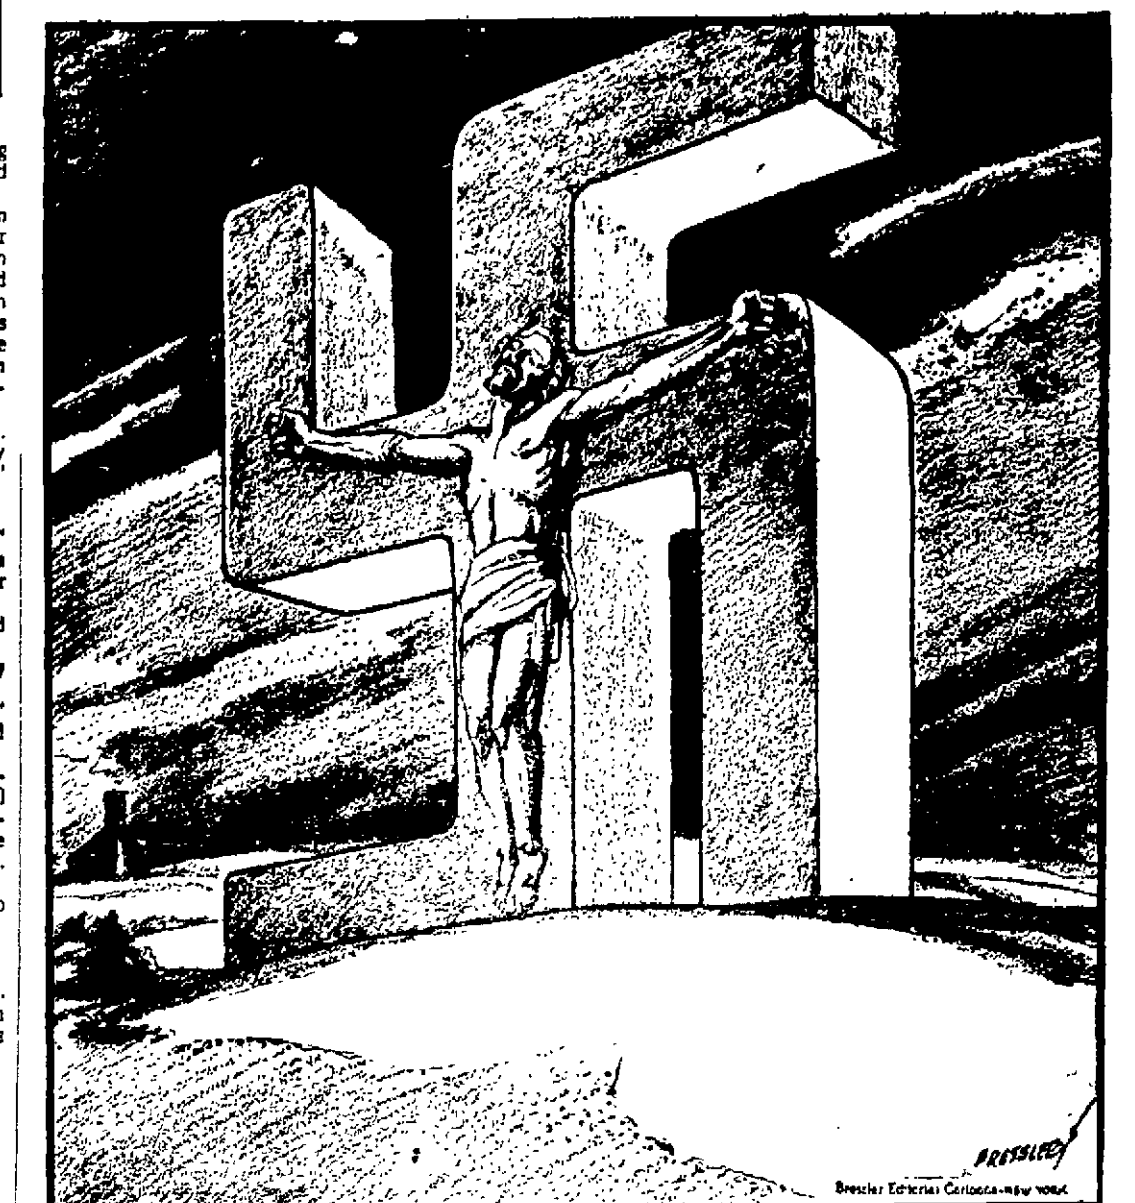

"I SAW a lettuce! I saw a lettuce!"
 Candy's voice almost reached high C as she ran into the house to break the news of her discovery.
 "Is it really coming up?" Nelda asked, a tingle of excitement coursing through her.

"Homes, Aunt Nelda! C'mon, an' I'll show you!"

"Okay!" Nelda was getting into a sweater and experiencing difficulty because of her haste.
 "You act like it's gold," Laura
 scoffed good-naturedly.

An accident involving three cars on Sunday resulted in injuries to five young persons of Marlborough and Newburgh. It occurred near the intersection of Route 9-W on the Bainville road, near Dick's Inn, at about 7:45
 p. m. The cars involved were those of Roy Burrows of Mar-
 borough, Ernest Vlieg of Roseton and Miss Nellie Cann of Newburgh. According to information, Vlieg was proceeding north on Route 9-W when Burrows' car,
 which was traveling south,
 strayed across the highway and struck the north bound vehicle.
 About 15 minutes later the Cann machine collided with the others already involved. Injuries were sustained by Anthony and Peter Anunovich, both 23, of Mar-

 Vlieg car. Vlieg escaped injuries.
 The most seriously hurt was Miss

 was badly damaged, but Mr.
 Burrows was uninjured.

Guiding Star Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Marlborough, held coming year recently and James Conn was elected chancellor. Other officers for the coming year are:

 Isaac Halwick, vice-chancellor;
 W. DuBois, master; Fred Baxter, representative to grand lodge

 session with Isaac Halwick, Jr., as alternate representative. Fred Baxter was named trustee.

Miss Josephine Troncillo, daughter of Frank Troncillo of Marlborough, became the bride of Alfred Ciccio of Highland on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Mary's Church, Marlborough, with the ceremony being performed by the pastor, the Rev. James Hanley. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in white satin with a veil falling from crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of Easter lilies. Her sister, Miss May Troncillo, was maid of honor and wore a gown of this satin with a hat of gold tulle with brown veil, her bou-quet was of yellow roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Ciccio of Highland followed her brother as best man. Following the ceremony a reception
 was held in the Lloyd Grange hall
 to which 250 guests attended.
 After a wedding trip upstate, Mr.
 and Mrs. Ciccio will reside in Highland.

Last Sunday morning, in the rectory of St. Mary's Church, Miss Lillian Baxter daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baxter of Ridge Road, Marlborough, became the bride of Francis McLaughlin son of Frank McLaughlin of the North Road. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. James Hanley, pastor. The bride wore a dabbonet crepe dress and a velvet hat with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Miss Charlotte Polizzi of Marlborough was the bride's attendant and was dressed in black velvet and wore a corsage of butterfly roses. John McLaughlin, cousin of the groom, was best man. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for New York City and upon their return will reside with the groom's
 father, who is engaged in fruit farming. Mrs. McLaughlin attended the Marlborough schools and the Spencerian Business School of Newburgh. For the last year she has been employed at the Vassar Alumnae House Poughkeepsie.

The clerk told him the price.
 Fortunately he had sufficient money to make the purchase. As the big bundle was handed to him and he paid for it he left the store with his face all smiles.
 "Golly," he was saying to himself, "the family order like this, cause I like it."

And the hope is here expressed that the whole family will like it too.

What was it he bought? Well, as the little chap is not apt to read this scrib it is violating no secret to say that the gift for the whole family is a miniature movie machine that will show
 real movies.

And anyway, if the whole family don't like it, you can bet there is one member of the family that will get a kick out of the gift.

This is "the winter of discontent," and everybody might as well get everything off his chest.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—A fine bit of irony
 has been uncovered on the theatrical front. Two of the newer plays, one of which is a failure,
 were written by an ex-hod-carrier and a college professor.
 Which of the plays do you think is a success? You're wrong—it's the hod-carrier's.

The partying menage of Charles E. Bedaux, until recently the Duke of Windsor's emissary, is one of Greenwich Village's points of interest at the moment. . . . It's a bizarre sort of place that lends itself to individual decorative schemes and can be made to suit
 the mood, and the motif, of any occasion.

Another Village "pride" is the self-made home of Tony Sarg, which is wedged snugly between the dowdiest pair of walls you have ever glimpsed.

The man with the oddest title
 in New York is William F. Carey, and he is officially, is the town's Snowmaster. At the wink of an eye from him $7,000,000 worth of equipment will swing into action.
 But before he winks it will have to snow—and plenty. Carey's job is to rid the streets of all snow and ice immediately after, or on the instant of, precipitation.

THE TOWN has changed so much, nocturnally, that residents of a decade ago hardly recognize it. . . . The biggest factor in this is the absence of white lights. More than 90 percent of Gotham's illumination now comes from neon tubing.

I don't see so many chestnut vendors as usual. Time was when a body encountered them on every corner—scarcely of fellows
 with cold suttly faces and icicles hanging from their noses.

THIS WEEK'S GAGS aren't too
 amusing, but it's what they're guffawing over in the pubs. Anyway:

Al Trahan: "I am a firm believer in early rising for health's sake. Every morning I leave a call for six. . . . Sometimes only four of us get up, but I always leave a call for six."

Al Johnson: "Did you hear the one about the struggling young poet who was rejected by his girl
 —so he threw himself in the wastebasket?"

Joe Ferrer: "Most Broadway
 stars are choosy and pick their friends to picnic."

Clairence: "Let me tell you about the radio commentator who married a school teacher.
 Now everyone he wants to speak
 he has to raise his hand." I warned you these weren't very funny.

Sundown Stories

SANTA CLAUS had gone off
 with packages to be left in houses until he could arrange them
 on Christmas Eve, and Rip was visiting Boy of the North, or Great Boy as he was also called.

"We have a busy life up here,"
 Great Boy told Rip. "When the excitement of Christmas is over we all take a rest and then we have a holiday. Santa plays with me and takes long snow-shoe trips and all of us do anything we want that is lazy and fun. But you know we find our Christmas life such fun
 that even when we're playing we stop and think of something for the next Christmas."

"We almost start another
 Christmas as soon as one is over.
 While the rest of the world goes on through the winter and the spring and the summer and the fall thinking of everything else we almost live the whole year thinking of Christmas."

"In January we mean to take a holiday—but we seldom do get anything about the following Christmas. In February we start

Herzog Presents Relief Figures

Lester W. Herzog, up-State Works Progress Administrator, announced today that a recent survey of employable persons receiving relief throughout the state showed a total of 14,095 men with dependents receiving home relief. A survey was also made to ascertain how many men could be employed on available projects. This amounted to a total of 7,033 persons. Area representatives today were directed by Administrator Herzog to requisition these persons.

These 7,033 employables are represented by 41 in Ulster county and 49 in the city of Kingston, with WPA jobs available in the county of 39, and in the city of 49.

Boy Scout Busy With Yule Deeds

Throughout Ulster and Greene counties the various Boy Scout units are busy this week completing their Good Turn service in the endeavor to assist in making Christmas a happy time for all.

During the past few weeks the various troops have been busy securing clothing, food and have secured considerable in the collection and repair of toys in many communities.

On Friday the troops will be busy distributing these toys—in some communities they have complete responsibility for the distribution of same, and in many other communities they are working with the various agencies and assisting where they can be the most helpful.

Vacation Activities

During the 10 days of the Christmas vacation many scout units of the Ulster-Greene Council will be making good use of this period. Many have planned series of hikes, and some will depend upon enough snow and ice to carry out some of their winter camp activities.

The Annual Meeting of the Ulster-Greene Council has been definitely set for Wednesday, January 19, and will take place in the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

This will be the 9th annual meeting of the council and a program "a bit different" is being arranged for this year. Rather than import an outstanding man as speaker the committee in charge this year is arranging to have the scouts of the council make up a large share of the program. This will include an orchestra composed of scouts who will play during the dinner, and the talks to be given following will be given by representatives from each of the various scout units throughout the two counties.

The business session of the annual meeting will take place in the afternoon when reports will be given and the nominating committee composed of Dr. L. H. Vandenberg of New Paltz, chairman, and J. F. Carrington of Saugerties, C. D. Raymond of Ellenville, H. B. Platner of Catskill, will present the slate of officers for the ensuing year.

Common Council Meets Wednesday

Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk has called the adjourned meeting of the common council for Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall. The council met last Tuesday evening to consider the request of the Board of Public Works that the $10 charge for laterals to new sewers which had been charged against property owners and not paid be included in the next general city tax bill. There was some opposition to the request on the part of interested property owners and the council deferred action and adjourned, subject to the call of the chair.

Hockey Practice This Evening

The present cold snap has conditioned the ice at Strubel's pond on Albany avenue, making possible a practice for the Kingston hockey team this evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Wait Donnarumma, key man in the movement to establish a hockey team here, announced about the practice this afternoon at 1:30, asking that a request be made for all interested in the sport and in the team to attend the drill this evening.

FAVORS SUBSIDIZING COLLEGE FOOTBALL MEN

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Dr. Jesse Quatse, star tackle at Pittsburgh a few years ago, today had gone on record as favoring subsidization of college football players, and declared that he had received such aid himself while at Pitt.

"I was subsidized as a player and am proud of it," Quatse told a gathering of New York schoolboys stars at the World-Telegram's all-scholastic dinner last night. "They don't help the boys at Pitt in the same way any more. They really have to work now. But I see nothing wrong in what I got." He then addressed himself to the 22 boys who made up the World-Telegram's all-prep school and all-public school teams. "I hope your youngsters can be subsidized in the same manner I was, wherever you go to college. It won't hurt a bit. I think I got every lesson from football that's available."

Seal Sale Group Reveals Real Story Behind Town Crier

Many questions have come to the office of the Christmas Seals Committee at 74 John street inquiring about the cured patient of Ulster county, who stepped into the role of town crier on reminder day, Friday, December 17. His message was, "Buy Christmas Seals."

This man, Marlin Lennon, of central Ulster county, was discovered through the preventive program carried on through the community. The sister of this man, a child of 15, while on a visit to the dentist, arranged for her through the Christmas Seals Committee was taken to the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and X-rayed. She was found to be an active case of tuberculosis. Upon family investigation it was discovered that her brother—the town crier—was also an advanced case of tuberculosis, had been ill but had not been under medical care. Very little hope was held out for this patient in the beginning, but with the aid of pneumothorax treatment—a form of lung collapse—a splendid recovery has been made by him. When he entered the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital he weighed 120 pounds and now he weighs 181 pounds. After his recovery a job was found for him and he is now working every day. There are many such cases of young people in Ulster county who have been given treatment at the tuberculosis hospital and have shown excellent results as in the case of Marlin Lennon.

The Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health through the sale of Christmas Seals is able to cooperate with the hospital, medical profession and public authorities in the preventive program in tuberculosis and other diseases. Through the support of Christmas Seals, the committee carry on Camp Happyland—a summer preventorium—for contacts and undernourished children of Ulster county. They provide county nurse service—assisting at chest clinics and tuberculin testing—follow-up visits in the home—and a year 'round health education campaign in tuberculosis and other diseases.

The committee is now working very hard to fill their quota for 1937 and so put Ulster county in a place comparable to other counties in New York state.

Although the telephone is now 61 years old, more than two-thirds of the telephone plant in service in this country has been built since the Great War.

In Sight of Greenland. Moscow, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Soviet Polar campers reported by wireless today that in clear weather their drifting ice floe was within sight of Greenland. The ice floe has crossed the 51.47 parallel—the latitude of Rudolf island, where Soviet Russia has a permanent Polar camp. Purpose of the camp on the ice floe was to enable the Russian scientists to make weather observations.

"Down With Nabas!"
Cairo, Dec. 21 (AP).—With hundreds of howling students at his heels, Finance Minister Ebeid Mahram sped through the gates of young King Farouk's palace today to confer on the deadlock between king and cabinet over control of the government. Steel helmeted police rushed to the palace to protect Mahram as El-Azhar University student supporters of the king milled around the minister's empty car, shouting: "Long live the King! Down with Nabas!" The crisis centered about the boy king's demand that Premier Mustapha Nabas Pasha dissolve his blue-shirted political army.

SANTA WHITE FOX

By SIGRID ARNE

"YOU'VE HAD AN EXCITING TRIP"

"THE STORY SO FAR: The sailor and Helga in the sailor's ice-boat have escaped the white fox in a race in which the boat went much faster than the fox could run. Now the two dolls must rescue the tiny squirrel which is still with the fox."

Chapter 20

Ring the Silver Bells

As soon as the sun set over the snowy fields the sailor took charge of the boat and headed it back to the white fox's mountain. Helga's cheeks were so bright, both from the excitement of the race and the sun's afterglow that she looked quite pretty again.

The sailor noticed that, and smiled. Helga, almost as if she had read his thoughts, laughed and said, "Didn't the white fox look silly? He didn't look brave at all. Just mad." Then she added shyly, "You look much braver."

The sailor seemed pleased but he said nothing. Then Helga began to feel hungry. And that's dreadful way up North where there seems to be nothing but snow. Finally she could keep still no longer.

She said, "Sailor could we have something to eat?"

Calling the Queen

The sailor slowed down his boat and said, "Well, we can't have as fine fare as the white fox serves, but we'll find something."

Helga protested, "Oh, but when I eat with you I won't have to worry that you'd get angry, as the fox did."

"Why, I might get very angry," said the sailor, but he laughed as he said it.

"Now then, how do we get food?" he continued. As the boat slipped along over the snow he took out the silver bells he had stolen from the fox, and shook them.

"Why, those are the bells I gave the fox," said Helga. "What are you doing?"

"I'm calling the Queen of Fairies," said the sailor. Suddenly right on top of the mast there was a little "Pop" and a bright flash of light, as though a tiny firecracker had exploded. And there stood the Queen of Fairies. She flew down to the sailor's shoulder.

Tea for Three

"You've had an exciting trip. I've brought tea for you." As she spoke she pulled a tiny handkerchief from her pocket, and spread it on the deck. As she spread it tiny cups and plates appeared which grew bigger and bigger until they were just the right size for Helga and the sailor. There were hot biscuits, steaming tea and a wee pot of strawberry jam.

"Oh—lovely," said Helga. "Please thank you," said the Queen of Fairies. When they had finished the Queen rolled up the handkerchief again, and it grew smaller and smaller. Then she was gone.

Helga looked at the sailor admiringly. "You have such nice friends," she said. "You know the white fox never had callers. He is a great, white fox, but no one comes to see him."

"Yes, I know," said the sailor. "But I think it's better to have good friends than to be the greatest anything in the world."

"That's what I think, too," said Helga.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Here's a sidelight on fame, or a new parlor game if you choose.

Try to name 10 women in contemporary life, outside the entertainment field and politics, so well known that their names bring instant recognition from the man in the street.

Simple? That's what we all said when an advertising specialist of our acquaintance broached the question. We started with Margaret Mitchell, but so had he. And he'd been disillusioned.

His company makes a practice of testing big names on the man in the street, systematically. In this instance, the quiz showed that a great many people had heard of "Gone With the Wind" but had no idea who Miss Mitchell was.

Actresses Do Better

Several popular women magazine writers came next, but didn't score. A famous illustrator drew the same blank—a woman who's been doing very good art work for the biggest magazines for years. Her name, you'd think, would be a household word. Ma-bye in yours, and mine, but in most households she isn't so well known as, say, Toby Wing, Betty Grable, Ida Lupino, or half a dozen movie blondes.

We thought of Margaret Sanger and Emily Post too late to check up their "fame" score from the commercial angle, but several others you'd think would be "famous" just aren't.

It's interesting if depressing. Margaret Mitchell, who worked Boomerang.

Laurinburg, N. C.—Church officials asked police to patrol a dangerous curve near the church

during worship; the reason—there was too much noise.

The police obliged.

The first speeder stopped was a preacher; the second, the county judge; the third, a deacon.

The curve is patrolled no longer.

Christmas Time!

The thought of it makes me a boy again and glad all over!

Tell me, what is this feeling that seeps into the depths of the innermost parts of a being and starts the flickering flames to burst out anew?

Others about you notice a glow in your face, a mellowness in your voice. A warmth radiates from you that becomes contagious. The whole world, people and things around you, seem brand-new, beautiful and lovely.

Before you know it, your soul is flooded with gratitude and generosity. Joy and peace flow from you like a river.

What is it? It is the true Christmas Spirit!

Well, well, if we only retained this spirit throughout the year, strife among men would cease. There would be no need for the Sherman-Clayton Act, the Robinson-Patman Act, the Wagner Law, the Social Security Act, no more peace conferences, because there would be peace and goodwill throughout the land.

Wars and rumors of war would cease. Swords would be melted into plowshares, spears into pruning hooks, because righteousness then would cover the earth as the waters cover the sea. This is a word picture of the true Christmas Spirit, and in this spirit we wish you a Merry Christmas!

Man (trying to square himself for being out late one night before)—Do you know, honey, if I had to do it all over again, who I'd marry?

Wife—No, who?

Man—You.

Wife—Oh, no you wouldn't!

Was Nature kind or was she unkind, who she constructed man so that he cannot kick himself?

Books—He—Yes, this book will do half your work for you. Study it, please. I'll take two of them.

On Guard.

Stand porter at the door of thought, let not base evil in. Guard well the sacred citadel, cast off intrusive sin.

Stand porter at the door of thought, shut fear and failure out.

Disease and death are impotent, when swiftly put to rout.

Stand porter at the door of thought, choose well your mental guests.

Did every form of strife depart, obey love's true behests. —GRANVILLE KLEISER

Sick Visitor—So you've been in every hospital in town, eh? I'll bet you haven't been in the women's hospital.

Octogenarian—Boy, I was born there.

Read It Or Not.

The sun's rays reaching the earth, are hotter in winter than in summer.

Victim—Wow! I thought you extracted teeth without pain? Dentist—Correct! I assure you I felt no pain whatever.

Streamlined Romance.

She murmured: "When we're married, dear, I'll still keep my boy friends."

The experts all agree that joy can't last when freedom ends. Of course, I'll love you, darling—lots! But a faithful wife? Marriage surely can't mean you'll monopolize my life! I'd like to cook your breakfast—but without late morning rest. I couldn't go out every night, and—really look my best! Oh, you're not sure you'll like this plan? How old-fashioned—my heaven!

Which do you seek—a wife—or slave?—It's 1937! —L. MYERS

We blame our work for our breakdowns, but usually the wear and tear that does the mischief is after work hours.

While friends may differ, their friendship is really built on harmony. When this ceases . . . So does friendship.

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 70, old age pen-

TELLS HOW CATTLE
BRANDS WERE BORNReunion Recalls Days of the Famous XIT Ranch.

Dalhart, Tex.—If you've ever wondered how cattle brands were born, listen to the story of the XIT ranch, whose former employees recently met in reunion here.

During the 1880s a Chicago syndicate acquired 3,000,000 acres of west Texas range land in exchange for building the huge red granite Texas capital building in Austin. The syndicate commissioned "Barbecue"
Campbell, first XIT foreman, to buy an entire outfit—cattle, horses and chuck wagons.

With one outfit came Ab Blocker,
greatest of the Texas trail drivers.
"I need a brand," said Campbell.
"One that will be hard for a rustler
to change and one that can be made with a single iron bar."

Blocker thought a moment, then traced a design on the ground with his boot heel.

"How's that?" he asked.

It was the XIT, designed to become famous throughout the cattle country. XIT cattle roamed literally millions of acres and the exploits of its cowboys were known throughout the area.

XIT has no cattle now and its ranges have been made into small plots and sold. The syndicate now has only a few thousand acres of land and that, too, is being sold.
Its old-timers, however, have now formed an association which meets every year to swap stories about the old days.

Many stories concern "Barbecue" Campbell, the foreman. Once he needed a smoke and didn't have one, so he ordered a whole carload of brown cigarette papers.

Skipper Flays "Softies";

Radios Keep 'Em Ashore

Halifax, N. S.—Bluenose sail-men, descendants of the iron men who sailed wooden ships fifty years ago, are a thing of the past, in the opinion of Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the most famous of all Nova Scotia fishing vessels, the Lunenburg Banker Bluenose.

"The pleasure-loving generation of today are a bunch of softies," commented the man who took command of the Bluenose when launched in 1921 and has helped her keep her title of queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleet ever since.

The future of the fishing industry
in Nova Scotia was threatened by a shortage of young men willing to dare the hardships and dangers of bank fishing, the Bluenose skipper declared in an interview here. He did not know if this shortage was caused by the prospect of poor returns from fishing or whether it was "just the effects of our pleasure-seeking age," he said.

Automobiles, radios, dance music and other distractions had lured the young men away from the sea, he added.

Campus Dog Pledged to

Greek Letter Fraternity

Columbus, Ohio.—"Bismarck" is just a plain dog, but he has been pledged by an Ohio State university fraternity, and thus becomes the only canine in the world officially affiliated with a Greek letter organization.

The lanky, tan dog, living at the Zeta Beta Tau house, is well known by a majority of the students and professors on the campus here. He has been loyal to Zeta Beta Tau since last winter when he was picked up, freezing and half-starved.
Bismarck nearly caused his fraternity to sever diplomatic relations with the girls' sorority, Alpha Epsilon Phi, recently. Walking into the feminine headquarters, the dog was ordered out by one of the co-eds, who later admitted she did not realize she was addressing such an important personage.

Immediately, every Zeta Beta Tau present rose in anger and stalked out of the house, behind their canine pledge-brother. Before the injured brothers would return, they asked for, and received, a suitable apology.

Present of Penny Upsets

Bookkeeping of Australia

Canberra, Australia.—Prime Minister J. L. Lyons of Australia recently received a letter enclosing a 1-penny stamp from a ryan who described himself as "a patriotic Australian."

The patriot had read an announcement that the national debt of Australia was 1,252,911,646 pounds and 1 penny. He sent the penny to "reduce the debt to a round figure."

Premier Lyons replied, expressing his thanks, but a checkup revealed Australia lost 2 pence on the transaction.

The gift was more than offset by the cost of the stamp on the official letter enclosing the receipt and by the cost of a telephone call from the prime minister's office to the treasury to arrange for the disposal of the penny.

Deliberations between the two departments revealed that the debt structure of the commonwealth is not sufficiently flexible to receive 1
penny. Also it could not square
the debt into round figures because the interest accrues daily. So the penny was paid into the petty cash account of the prime minister's department which, it is said, could be called misappropriation of funds.

From then until the present day the monthly programs, held at the homes of the various members, have proven a source of enjoyment and inspiration to all, covering as they do, a wide variety of topics destined to fulfill the purpose of the society. In addition, it has held annual open meetings for the pleasure of its friends, presented entertainments at local institutions, and lent support to worthwhile musical undertakings in the community. The present officers of the Musical Society are shown above. They are, left to right, Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFever, vice-president; Miss Eva Clinton, president; Miss Caroline Port, treasurer; and Mrs. Mortimer Downer, secretary.

KNOW ETIQUETTE TO BE AT EASE ON ANY KIND OF OCCASION

Be Charming and Poised at Formals

A big formal! Eve's charmingly at ease—unlike poor Kay who, everybody sees, doesn't know what to do from one minute to the next.

Yet poised at formal affairs is as simple as poised at informal affairs. It's all in knowing the right thing ahead of time—of brushing up on etiquette suited to each occasion.

At a large program dance, your escort finds partners for you and writes their names on your card. As some of them may be men you've never met, be easy to find between dances, so your partners may be presented without awkward delays and wallflower minutes for you.

And remember, though there's less glitter about them, little everyday incidents are a test of your breeding, too.

When you're introduced to people, socially or in business, give a smiling "How do you do." In very bad taste is the gushing "Very pleased, I'm sure." At the movies, let your beau go ahead and select the seats if there is no usher.

At all times be poised, correct, confident. Our 40-page booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR EVERY DAY, tells what to do on all occasions, dancing, dating, motor-ing, dining. Table manners.

Send 15c for our booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR EVERY DAY, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

NEWS OF THE WORLD ON WHEELS

Safety—long a watchword among automobile manufacturers—now is attracting unprecedented attention from the motoring public, according to one of the leading engineers in the industry.

There was a time, according to H. T. Youngren, chief engineer of Oldsmobile, when automobile manufacturers appeared to take more serious interest in the safety factors of motor car design than did the driving public. Of recent years, however, he says that the average motorist has grown extremely "safety conscious" and takes every new mechanical aid to safe driving.

"This was especially evident at the automobile shows recently held throughout the country," Mr. Youngren said. "New car prospects and casual visitors alike lingered long over new safety devices and discussed them at length with display attendants at the shows."

"One development that seemed to draw more attention than any other feature of our exhibits was the Oldsmobile Safety Instrument Unit and Safety Dash. The idea of grouping all instruments and gauges directly in front of the driver and just below his line of vision appeared to meet general approval. The safety advantage of this design, of course, is that it minimizes distraction from the road."

"Of special interest too, was the new Oldsmobile Automatic Safety Transmission. This revolutionary new device, which reduces driving to its simplest and safest terms, offers a major advancement in motoring security by permitting two-handed steering at all times."

Sharing public interest with these outstanding developments, Mr. Youngren said, were such body features as safety interiors, safety plate glass, steel body, steel top and floor construction; while mechanical improvements in wheel design, super-hydraulic brakes and road illumination also drew frequent comment from the show crowds.

The adoption of rear coil springs on Buick motor cars has effected a marked reduction in unsprung weight on these cars resulting in improved riding quality and passenger comfort.

Such in substance was the description today by C. A. Chayne, chief engineer, of one of the major benefits of coil spring rear suspension, which he said has proved one of the most popular as well as advanced mechanical features of the new cars.

Unsprung weight, he explained, is that part of a car's weight which is not supported by the springs. This includes such chassis parts as wheels and tires, axles, about one half of the weight of the propeller shaft and its enclosing members, (in Buick's case the torque tube) and a proportionate part of the weight of the springs themselves.

A pair of Buick's coil springs on the Series 40 cars weighs 27.38 pounds as against 76 pounds for the former leaf springs used on 1937 models, the engineer said. The entire 1938 rear spring assembly weighs 45.94 pounds as against 107.00 pounds last year, a reduction of 61.07 pounds.

Elimination of spring covers and grease fittings, considerable reduction in the weight of attaching parts and of the springs themselves, accounts for the difference.

When the more prosaic Christmas gifts have been considered, reconsidered, and rejected for that hard-to-please person on the shopping list, Chevrolet dealers have a number of suggestions to make. And that they are more than acceptable to the average man or woman is proved by an impartial survey of 1,000 persons, made recently in New York.

In the nation's largest city, reporters interviewed 1,000 miscellaneous men and women, asking each his or her preference in Christmas gifts. It is significant that, out of 22 items specifically named, accessories rated fourth, topped only by such gift standbys as wearing apparel, jewelry and household goods.

Chevrolet had added considerably to its line of accessories for the 1938 season, according to M. D. Douglas, parts and accessories merchandising manager.

In the inexpensive accessory class, a newly-designated illuminated vanity mirror is a popular item. The mirror, which may be carried in the glove compartment, has sufficient cord so that it may be moved to any position in the car when in use. A lighted portion of the mirror illuminates the driver's face for that last-minute touch before she enters cafe or theater.

A cigarette holder which attaches to the steering column is another handy device for the modern motor car. A neat plastic container keeps cigarettes handy, yet out of the way at all times, and does away with fumbling in pocket or glove compartment for a smoke.

Parking at night is a problem which Chevrolet combats with its new back-up lamp, which may be installed on the rear of the car to insure ample illumination when the car is being eased into parking position.

Deluxe and custom-tailored seat covers make an ideal Christmas gift for the motorist who seeks to preserve the appearance of his car. Attractive and comfortable, these smart new covers not only enhance eventual trade-in value, but are said to be extremely easy on clothing.

Stocks Move Up In Active Trading

With trading active, the total being 1,400,000 shares yesterday, stocks moved upward. The Industrials gained 2.45 points, closing at 129.05 on the Dow-Jones average, still nearly 12 points under the average for the same day in 1935. Rails were up 0.67 point, to 32.58, utilities showed a gain of 0.24, to 21.80. Government bonds were irregular, but corporates firmed. London market was steady. Amsterdam generally firm. Paris irregular. Cotton was strong and there were reports of active business in Worth Street, with prices at the best levels for the current move.

With the week shortened by the holiday, the Steel Institute scheduled operations this week at 23.5 per cent of the input capacity, off 2.4 points from preceding week.

There was strength in gold futures, which are up 300 points from the low of November 21. Secretary Morgenthau revealed yesterday that while there had been a substantial flow of capital out of the United States to France it was not due to liquidation of stocks and foreign purchases of American securities are said to be now exceeding sales.

Official figures are said to disclose that the U. S. is engaged in some mysterious gold transactions with some foreign country, possibly Great Britain or France. Official figures show that gold is disappearing after it enters this country and fails to appear in the official gold stocks.

Sales of large nation-wide merchandisers generally are running slightly ahead of last year, with indications that the trend will continue during the next two weeks. Older units are reported as about holding levels, and a year ago, stores opened during the year being largely responsible for the increased volume. The condition is seen as highly encouraging, since last December was a most successful month, with leading concerns having an increase of 19.1 per cent over the same month in 1935. Variety chains are said to be making the best showing, with higher priced goods moving slowly. Taking the country as a whole, the East is making the best showing.

Armour & Co. of Illinois reported net for year ended October 30, of $9,712,792, or 62 cents a share, compared with net of $10,279,462, or 74 cents a share in 1936 year.

With operations running well ahead of a year ago net of Plymouth Oil for year is estimated at around $3 a share, compared with $1.65 in 1936.

The SEC has joined Electric Bond & Share seeking a Supreme Court review of Federal Circuit Court of Appeals decision holding Utility Co. Act of 1935 unconstitutional.

The Pullman Co., asking ICC for rate increase, says that the company's business has been hurt by railroad companies offering better coaches without increasing charges.

Reports credited to "High Administration" quarters last night said that President Roosevelt will insist upon enactment of a minimum-wage maximum-hour law, establishing at least "rudimentary" labor standards "early" in the 1938 session of Congress. The precise form of the legislation is said to be a matter of great concern at the White House.

Assurance to business as to what it may expect in the way of tax relief next session was apparently blocked when the House tax subcommittee disbanded for the holidays without taking final action on its program for tax revision.

Twenty-two participants in last February's sit-down strike at the Douglas Aircraft plant at Los Angeles were found guilty of conspiracy to commit unlawful seizure.

UAW President Martin yesterday delayed departure from Kansas City because of "tense situation" in connection with union attempts to close Ford plant.

Willis Overland Motors reports net of $473,029 for the fiscal year ended September 30, total output for the period being 66,755 units.

Browning Writes Book on Dog Life

Robert F. Browning of West Hurley, proprietor of Takalon Kennels and breeder of champions, has turned author and from the press of Sirius Publications, Ltd., has recently come "Dogs Can Live Longer", a publication which was inspired through the numerous questions which people have asked of Mr. Browning relative to dogs. Throughout his long experience as a breeder of dogs many dog fanciers have been puzzled by what Mr. Browning terms simple matters but which to them were difficult problems. Numerous mythical stories about dogs came to his attention and to express in simple everyday "not-too-technical" language which every dog lover might understand, he turned to his pen.

The book is a comprehensive study of the vital subject of "bringing up" man's favorite animal friend and covers all phases from the choice of the dog through training and discipline, breeding and various ills. It is a manual well worth while owning.

Assisting in the preparation of the book was his daughter, Miss Betty Browning, who did a diagram for the publication. The diagram is that of a pointer showing the various points. Miss Browning is an accomplished artist, having done numerous animal drawings and etchings. Mrs. Browning is one of the country's well known dog judges, having acted as judge at numerous large pet shows throughout the country. She recently returned home from Chicago where she was a judge at the Collie Club Specialty Show. Among the shows where she has acted as judge, besides the New York shows, is the Baltimore show. In the spring she will be one of the judges at the Cincinnati Show.

Takalon Kennels of West Hurley is the breeder of 21 champions and besides collies, great danes, cocker spaniels, and shepherds, various show dogs are bred.

Every Hair on Body Has Clew to Characteristics

Even if your head is not unique, a criminologist could almost certainly distinguish one of your hairs among hundreds of others.

Such things as size, curliness, transparency, degree of pigmentation, chemical analysis, elasticity and brittleness are all more important than color, because they cannot be altered, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

The chances against more than one person possessing all the same qualities are enormous, and they are probably higher in this country of mixed races than anywhere else.

Most of the tell-tale signs are racial characteristics. Coarse, straight hair with a core in its center is the Mongolian type. It hangs straight because it is round in section.

At the other extreme comes the fine, oval hair of the European, without any central pith at all. Wavy hair is always oval in section, and is due to lopsided growth from the root.

"Frizzy" or spirally curled hair is actually ribbon-shaped, and is generally coiled. Negroes and Papuans have hair of this sort. Typic white men have oval beard hair, and the only hair they possess which is coiled is that under the arms.

But a pure type is very rarely found, except in isolated corners of the world, and that is why the study of hair is so important to the detective.

Horseshoe and Good Luck

According to Brewer's Dictionary of Phrase and Fable the legend that a horseshoe brings good luck is supposed to have originated with St. Dunstan, who was noted for his skill in shoeing horses. One day Satan himself is said to have appeared and demanded that his "single hoof" should be shod. St. Dunstan, recognizing his customer, tied him tightly to the wall and proceeded to do as he was bid, but purposely inflicted so much pain that his Satanic Majesty begged for mercy. Thereupon St. Dunstan released his captive after having extracted from him a promise that he would never enter a place where a horseshoe was displayed. Thus reads the legend. And so, for many centuries, observes a writer in the New York Herald Tribune, the horseshoe has been looked upon as a charm against evil and a bringer of good fortune. At one time it was affixed to the front door of the house as a protection against witches. Lord Nelson caused one to be nailed to the mast of his flagship the Victory and, today, we still find this emblem of good luck installed in many homes.

Use of the Silver Skewer

In the early part of the Seventeenth century a silver skewer was used by the cutting squire to hold meat in place while it was cut into slices. Having cut off a slice it was placed on a slice of bread and then served to a guest. This manner of serving is practiced in many of the older countries of Europe. In time the skewer used for holding the meat gave place to a fork, which was a great improvement. One, two, three and four-pronged forks came into use in the latter part of the Seventeenth century. By this time each guest was supplied with a fork and helped himself instead of being served by the cutting squire.

Wolverines Go Well on the Court

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines haven't figured prominently in the big ten gridiron title race in recent seasons but don't sell them short on the basketball court this winter.

The Wolverines won their fourth straight "warmup" game in as many starts last night, and the score, 42 to 17 over Dartmouth, indicates that opponents are going to find it tough to crack the Wolverine defense when the conference championship chase opens.

Illinois left the undefeated ranks, bowing to Temple 51 to 33 at Philadelphia. It was the first defeat for the Illinois in five games.

Purdue's "50 points or no points" aggregation won its fifth straight game by downing Loyola's fast team 55 to 41.

Minnesota, co-champion of the conference, won its fourth game, downing Nebraska 33 to 28, although the Gophers were outshout in field goals 13 to 12.

Iowa remained in the undefeated class, winning a fourth straight by turning back Xavier of Cincinnati 33 to 28.

ICE BOWL TIMEKEEPER WILL HAVE TO KEEP TABS ON EVERYTHING

King Island, Alaska, Dec. 21 (AP)—The time-keeper at the Ice Bowl game here New Year's Day will have to use a sextant—one of those things sea captains use to shoot the sun—as well as a watch, or the game may wind up on January 2.

Two Eskimo teams are to clash for the Arctic championship.

"What we're afraid of now," said Ed Levin, coach of the King Island Polar Bears, today, "is that the heat or battle, the ice field may break away. Then if Elgiok, 7 star fullback, makes a wide sweep around end, he may end up on the other side of the international line"—75 miles west.

Gainsborough, Society Painter Thomas Gainsborough (1727-1788), the first of the distinctly English school of painting, was the most celebrated society painter of all time.

His procedure was to have his sitters sit patiently while he painted the most attractive woman he could imagine. After that he began to work down to a point that approached the appearance of the lady in question. When she began to see a resemblance, he quit. He confessed to George III that he preferred to paint landscapes, his works of which as art rank as high as his portraits, but his life's extravagant demands made him turn to the more lucrative portrait painting. Gainsborough's portraits are in clear and transparent tones of blue and green.

Salt Spring on Prairie

A few yards from a main road in Kansas, salt water trickles out of the ground. Indian legends attribute the Wacoua springs to a forgotten arm of the Pacific ocean, left there when the Great Father ordered the ocean to leave its beautiful continental basin. The Ocean God, however, only agreed to depart on condition that he was allowed to leave a representative behind him. The thing is one of the few "bottom pits" in the world, and though they have tried, no one has been able to find exactly how deep it is.

Kingston High and Saugerties Play at the Auditorium Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock the basketball teams of Kingston High School and Saugerties High School will swing into action at the municipal auditorium, where a crowd is expected to see these water county quintets duel in a lance contest that should be packed with action, according to those who have witnessed past battles between the clubs.

A year the Kingston band two games away from the arm Glister opponents, who in revenge in tonight's battle showed superiority

St. Mary's gained possession of first place in the Church Basketball League Monday night on the Clinton Avenue Aces, 13-12 in a typical Clinton Avenue defensive battle. In the other contests the Redeemers defeated Port Ewen by the score of 26-24 and the Comforters trounced the First Dutch 23-20.

The Irish-Clinton battle was the hardest fought game of the season, with close guarding featuring the contest. Inability to convert a single foul attempt spoiled the Clinton Avenue eagles bid for victory. The uptown church missed eight successive conversions from the baby stripe. Previous to last night's contest these clubs were tied for first place.

The Irish led 10-8 at the end of the first half. In the last half neither club was able to do much on the offense only seven points being registered in the two periods. The score was 12-8 going into the final quarter in favor of St. Mary's. After Every caged a field to pull the Clintons up to two points behind. Madden committed a foul attempted for the Irish to make the score 13-10. Babe Schreiber then scored a double for the Clintons making the score 13-12, with two minutes of playing time remaining. The two clubs fought valiantly to gain possession of the ball but the game ended before another basket was registered.

The Redeemers continued on the comeback trail in the first game nosing out Port Ewen by two points. Each club used only four men. Ed Bock led the winners with 10 points. Bing Van Eiten scored five fields to lead the boys from across the creek.

The Comforters handed the First Dutch their seventh successive loss in the second game 23-20. Les Hotaling led the Comforters with twelve points. Chaplin scored 10 points to lead the Dutchmen.

At 14, Glen Wade, of Wenatchee, Wash., claims a broken bone championship. He's had 62 fractures during his life. An unusual bone condition affected him soon after birth, when his mother snapped his arm while putting on his jacket and he broke his leg when he tried to put his foot in his mouth.

The Year in Sports: 4 Turi's Story Told By Two Horses

By ORLO ROBERTSON.

New York (AP)—Around the feats of two great horses is woven the 1937 chapter in American turf history.

Know the story of unbeaten War Admiral and the rise from rags to riches of Seabiscuit and you have the highlights of a year that saw bigger crowds, increased wagering, richer purses, the end of racing in Texas, a political argument that closed Narragansett park in the fall, and the passing of the famous Whitney-Eton blue silks.

The fact that the Admiral and Seabiscuit, son and grandson, respectively, of Man O' War, never met, only served to make the plot more interesting and to furnish material for the "Hot Stove League." Seabiscuit, carrying the silks of Mrs. C. S. Howard of San Francisco, beat out the Admiral from Samuel Riddle's Philadelphia stable, for money-winning honors, but the latter was judged the horse of the year in a nationwide poll of sports writers.

The story of War Admiral is one of a parade through all the Important 3-year-old events in which he competed. Starting with an allowance race at Haver De Grace in the spring, the Riddle account for the Chesapeake stakes, Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont stakes before an injury received in the latter forced him to the sidelines.

Returning to competition in the fall, he again started off with a triumph in an allowance race. He then came through in the Washington Handicap, a stake from which Seabiscuit was scratched because of track conditions, and the Pimlico Special. The eighth victories, all achieved with Louisville's "Flying Dutchman," Charlie Kurtsinger in the saddle, gave him earnings of $166,500 for the year.

Seabiscuit's contribution to the story is a little more fantastic. He was so highly regarded by James Fitzsimmons, trainer of such great champions as Gallant Fox, Omaha and Granville, that the Vixen stable sold the son of Hard Tack to Mrs. Howard for $7,500 late in the 1936 season.

Runs Dead Heat.

Almost overnight the manners of Seabiscuit changed. From a rogue he became a mild mannered horse. With the change came victory. He dropped a nose defeat to William Dufort, Jr.'s Rosemount in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap and then started a string of eight straight triumphs, broken when he finished third behind Calumet Bick and Caballero 2nd in the $25,000 Narragansett special.

His only other defeat in 11 starts came when he bowed by a nose to William Ziegler's Boyer in the Bowie Handicap late in the season. Among his 11 triumphs was a dead heat with T. P. Mosen's Heffly in the Laurel stakes. This enviable record sent the Howard 4-year-old into the winter season with earnings of $168,612.50.

When Mrs. Ethel V. Marx Sky Larking, winner of the Hopeful, broke his leg in the Champagne stakes at Belmont Park, Hal Price Headley's Menow, W. S. Kilmer's Neday and Mrs. Marx Tiker were left as best of the nation's 2-year-olds. Menow, victor in the rich Belmont futurity, was the leading money-winner with $67,825, and winner of the nation-wide poll but Neday came along at the end of the season to win the Pimlico.

Next Boxing Show on Dec. 29, Lot of Locals Anxious to Box

There will be no boxing matches this week at the municipal auditorium, a Christmas layoff having been decided upon by the committee on arrangements.

The next card of scraps is billed for Wednesday night, December 29, regularly a basketball night, but on account of Frank Morganewick shifting to New Year's, boxing will be the midweek sport at the auditorium.

No card has been definitely arranged, but it is presumed that Irv Van Kleeck, local junior lightweight, who challenged Mario Severino last Friday night will be given one of the top spots on the card with the Schneetday star.

Van Kleeck, hardly out of the three round class, gave Severino a tight go in the recent Diamond Belt tournament at Albany, and then bowed a draw with him two weeks later in an exhibition at the capital city.

"I'd like to box Severino in Kingston," said Van Kleeck, who is confident the home atmosphere will help him do even better against Chic Ivanelli's up and coming little ring star.

Last Friday night, Van Kleeck, eager for a home duel with Mario, jumped into the ring and issued a challenge, which was well received when Sam Riber announced it.

Buddy Emerson, St. Remy lightweight, who was a Diamond Belt winner, and competed in Boston, will be on the card next week, as will his brother, Frankie, 150 pounder, who will make a comeback against Kid Miller, another local boy, has been out of the ring for about a year and hopes to get a good start again when he meets Emerson.

Other boxers who have applied for places on the card are Monk Armstrong, Frankie Fabbri, Peter Robinson, all Kingston boxers, Ray Stagg, Billy Pender and Don Hunt of Newburgh, and Jimmy Fabey, 160 pound ex-marine corps leather slinker now residing at West Shelton.

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—Sure didn't take Harry Mehre long to get that "old feeling" . . . He quit Georgia and announced he was through with coaching. . . . A week later he pops up as one of the candidates for Ed Walker's old job at Mississippi.

Physicians have warned Sixto Escobar, former bantamweight champion, who just missed pneumonia, to do no more fighting in New York between September and May. . . . Alabama had 20,000 requests for its 5,000 Rose Bowl ticket allotment.

If Louisiana State is so much stronger than Alabama (as the Sugar Bowl horn blowers are shouting) why was Alabama the first choice? . . . Don Bennett, who coached South High of Worcester, Mass., to six district football championships in six years, will take a great big hand and you can count this as a starter. . . . Henry Armstrong got a rousing welcome when he arrived home in Los Angeles after his eastern knockout tour. . . . The boys, still must at least one top flight Pacific coast football coach will move eastward soon. . . . to Michigan?

When bigger and better football captains are turned out, we suppose Turtle Creek, Pa., will do the turning. . . . Last three Randolph-Macon captains hail from there. . . . Jimmy Blair and Russ Boone, 1937 co-captains, are Turtle Creekers and so is Alexander Walecki, just elected to lead next year. . . . What we want to know is how all those guys got away from Pitt. . . . Ain't they big enough? . . . Colorado will train for the Cotton Bowl at Fort Worth. . . . Thirty Texas titles inherited by White and Co.

Here's bad news for Jimmy Nelson of Lanesburg, High, Troy, N. Y.: Just when it looked like he had set a season's record for high schoolers with a 106-touchdown run, Duane Moore of Ponca City (Okla.) High had to go and spoil things with a 108-yard gallop. . . . Red Dawson, Tulane's lone young football coach, is a big game.

Around New Orleans, Louisiana State 19 a 2 to 1 favorite over Santa Clara in the Sugar Bowl. . . . Governor Cone of Florida is going to make Katherine Bach, the swimmerette, a colonel on his staff.

Seabiscuit, at 8 to 1, is the favorite for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in the winter book of James J. Carroll, St. Louis commissioner. . . . War Admiral is 10 to 1, Heffly, 12 to 1 and Rosemont, last year's winner, is 15 to 1. . . . Clay Calhoun of Loyola, (New Orleans) who made the AP's "Little All America," is a descendant of John Calhoun, the fiery southern statesman of ante-bellum days. . . . Also he's quite a ball player.

Complainant Fails To Arrive in Time For Noble's Trial

Trooper Roger Merritt was the only witness to testify for the prosecution Monday before Justice Walter Webber when the Edward Noble case came up before the court for a hearing. William Cullen, driver of the truck which was in collision with the Noble car on November 27, the date Noble was arrested on a charge of operation of his car while intoxicated, did not arrive in court to testify although a telegram was received from the driver informing the court that he and a second witness had missed the train in New York and would proceed to Lake Katrine by car. When it became evident that Cullen, who was the complainant in the matter, would not arrive at 11 o'clock, Frank Campochiaro, appearing for the prosecution, asked for an adjournment until 2 o'clock but his application was denied and the case proceeded. With Cullen was the driver of a second truck which was following the Cullen truck on the night of the arrest and who had seen the defendant at the scene.

Not Drunk.

Dr. Thomas F. Crowley, who examined Noble after the accident, was engaged at the hospital and an affidavit was offered in which the doctor said his examination did not show Noble under the influence of intoxicants. Others who testified and told of having been with Noble or having seen him for some considerable time prior to the accident and who gave their opinion that he was not intoxicated were Captain Edward H. Albright, Officer Peter Keresman, Joseph Rodden, John Wort, David Sherry, Ella Myers and Haskell Jump. Through the witnesses the defense showed Noble's movements for some time prior to the accident. Mr. Noble also took the stand and testified that he was absolutely sober at the time of the accident. Trooper Merritt, the only witness sworn for the prosecution, testified to having been at the scene of the accident and said that Cullen, driver of the truck had requested the arrest of Noble. Merritt told of the actions of Noble following the accident.

Jacob Bernato of Wilbur, who was riding with Noble at the time of the crash, testified that Noble was not intoxicated. At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Webber discharged the defendant.

Naval Ships Move Secretly on Coast

San Pedro, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP)—The navy high command threw a screen of silence today around the sudden transfer of nine destroyers from their San Diego base to the main body of the fleet at San Pedro.

A radio call in San Diego last night for the entire personnel of the aircraft scouting force to report immediately for duty was described later by an official source as a "serious mistake." At the time, Rear-Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the aircraft force, was participating in a surprise conference here with Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Fleet. Admiral King flew back to his San Diego headquarters.

In the absence of other information, shore observers were inclined to believe the destroyer transfer might be nothing more than a "monkey drill," testing the speed of mobilization under holiday conditions.

The sailing of the destroyers under forced draft followed by a few hours the publication of a letter by Secretary Hull stating the present "does not seem an opportune moment" to withdraw American ships from the Sino-Japanese war zone.

Shore patrol officers combed theaters and other amusement places for crews on holiday leave.

The Navy Department in Washington was noncommittal but pointed out Admiral Hepburn has authority to act independently.

The false reports of stand-by orders for the aircraft scouting force at San Diego were explained by Captain Alva Bernhard as originating in a call by one officer for a number of men to work overtime. The request became garbled, Captain Bernhard said, and scores of navy files reported.

Santa Claus Banished

Tokyo, Dec. 21 (AP)—Santa Claus was banished from Japan today. A home ministry ordinance forbids the usual festive manner of celebrating Christmas this year. Japan, although not a Christian nation, had been celebrating the day with growing ardor annually, with department stores featuring Santa Clauses similar to the American variety. Shopkeepers have announced that instead of the usual decorations their establishments will display Japanese, German and Italian flags. (The three nations are signers of an Anti-Communist agreement.)

Would Reward Motorists

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A plan to reward safe motorists with a cash refund of 15 per cent of their liability insurance premiums has been announced by 38 stock companies in the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. February 1 was named as the probable date for the plan to become effective in most states. As explained by the bureau, all motorists who go through the succeeding 12 months without an accident will receive 15 per cent of their premium payments.

After several days of comparatively mild winter weather there were flurries of snow in Kingston Monday night and when residents awoke this morning it was to find the ground covered with a coating of snow. Colder weather followed on the heels of the snow and thermometers recorded as low as 20 degrees above zero.

The board of public works had its trucks out sanding down the hills and danger spots in the city, and as hardly any ice had formed on the pavements driving was not as hazardous as it was several days ago when the streets were a glare of ice.
